

Meet The Author

Workshops with author Raphaella Serfaty

Illustrations by Nurit Serfaty

*Eddie the elf was walking one day
In a sunny green forest not far away.
All of a sudden he saw something round,
Lying in front of him on the ground.
It was big and white, didn't make a sound,
The strangest treasure he'd ever found.
Eddie wondered: "Now what can I do with something that has not just one hole, but two?"*

("What Can You Do With a Button?" written by Raphaella Serfaty)

Simple objects turn into magical ones in the adventures of a little elf strolling in the woods. Let your imagination soar and join him on an exciting journey in which you'll find new creative ideas and inspiration!

In a unique and exciting session, children will be exposed to the arts of writing and illustrating. They will take an active part in the process of storytelling and witness the way a story is illustrated, while they serve as "models" for an illustrated scene.

In addition, they will learn about the use of colors and about the way certain atmosphere and emotions are conveyed in the scene.

The session includes an arts and crafts activity that is related to the story.

- The program is designed for children between the ages 3 to 8 years old.
- The meeting can be adjusted according to the school's program or special needs.
- The meeting can combine additional activities such as experiencing writing or illustration.

For more information and booking:
Raphaella Serfaty 01223.711695
raphaella.s@gmail.com
www.raphaellaserfaty.com

My button is....

"A pig"

"A fish"

"A lion"

"A grasshopper"

"A shield"

"A swing"